

Gardening Tips From Our Members

Know Your Poisonous Plants

We have many, many poisonous plants in this area that are deadly to our pets as well as humans.

The lilies, including calla, amaryllis, peace, Easter lily, Gloriosa. Oriental and daylily are more common ones. Geranium, cladium, hydrangea, poke weed, foxglove, angel trumpet, bird of paradise, and foxglove are poisonous as well.

All parts of the King and Queen Sago are poisonous to livestock. Poinsettia, ferns, daffodils and philodendrons are included.

One of our most deadly is the Oleander - one leaf is enough to kill an adult!. The dry and green leaves are very toxic. Breathing in the smoke of these leaves burning is very deadly!

Submitted by Lorene Junkin