

Gardening Tips From Our Members

Spring is here and there is a wide variety of annuals that can be planted. Some annuals that can take the sun are: cosmos, marigolds, begonias, geraniums, sunflowers, dusty miller and zinnias.

Also consider container gardening - especially good if you're not sure what plants will thrive in your yard. You can move them around until they find a spot they like!

A tip for large pots - fill the bottom with those "popcorn" packing material, then top with potting soil.

Water your containers daily and consider using the wide variety of decorative plastic pots that are available since they are easy to move and also absorb less water.

Submitted by Marilyn Slack, GGC Corresponding Secretary